Call for a Teaching Assistant for the course Audiovisual Journalism of the 21st Century (Erasmus Mundus Journalism, Media and Globalisation)

We are looking for a teaching assistant (TA), who is a PhD student at the Institute of Communication Studies and Journalism (CZ/EN), for the course Audiovisual Journalism of the 21st Century, offered by the Erasmus Mundus Journalism, Media and Globalisation (EMJ) programme.

General comments about the position

- This teaching assistantship contributes to fulfilling the PhD programme requirement to support the Institute in its teaching.
- Per calendar year, the TA will receive 1 CDS point (*) (for assistance in a class), which will result in the increase of the PhD student's stipendium.
- The teaching assistantship will be equal to ten weeks' work.
- Gains for the TA: development of course organization and management skills; development of teaching skills
- Period of the TA work:
 - October 2022 – December 2022

The TA will perform the following tasks

- Support students in their course assignments as a local fixer/production assistant
- The course is a practical seminar focusing on the TV journalism. The EMJ students work on their assignments during the semester (short news packages, etc.). Therefore, a help of local fixer is welcomed.
- Your task would be to help students mainly during the pre-production of their seminar work – help finding the right interviewees, arranging the stories, communication with the local authorities, translation to Czech etc.
- The position does not have a fixed schedule – you do not need to attend the seminars; you will be reachable by the students if they ask for some help during the periods when they prepare their stories.

- Other tasks related to the course support (if you have background in the broadcast journalism/technologies)

We require

- Local knowledge
- Communication skills (helping to arrange the stories, interviewees etc.)
- Experience with broadcast (TV) journalism is appreciated but not necessary
